Work is progressing steadily on the lower tunnel, 300 feet below the upper tunnel, and as stages and pockets of ore are how being encountered in the breast of the tunnel it is expected the vein may be opened up at any time. If it is that will show the permaneche of the vein for 300 feet at least, and if of the vein for 300 feet at least, and if the quality and quantity of ore equals that in the upper tunnel, there will be enough ore to give the company big returns for the money put into the mine for the last three years. It will mine for the last three years. It will also demonstrate that the vein continues down, and a tunnel can be run from the level of the canyon, which will be 1,200 feet belew the surface. This, with the prospect for an increase in the size of the vein and the quality of the over the very envergence condithe ore, is a very encouraging condi-tion, and if the prospects are realized the Garden City company will be hand-somely remunerated for its enterprise, and numerous other mines will be opened up on the same ledge, which ex-tends for miles. Several companies are now at work on different properties, and success of the pioneer company will act as a stimulous to mining men to make the necessary investments for the development of the district.

returned to the city yesterday from Newhouse, where he has been adjusting the new concentrator which has started its run on Cactus copper ores, brought in the information that the behavior of the plant has more than come up to expectations.

"I can say this," said Mr. Bettles to a representative of the "News" today, "we are making a saving much better than any of the tests I made with the experimental mill before Mr. Newhouse decided to exercise his option on the Cactus mine. I have never in all my life seen prettier concentration work than that now being done at Newhouse. Of course it will take us some little time yet to complete all the adjustments and the first shipment of concentrates will not be of a bigh. concentrates will not be of as high grade as those will be which are to come after everything in the way of the operation of machinery approaches perfection. One section of the plant has been practically adjusted to the ores, and another section will be undertaken at once. By the end of the next 12 days the mill will probably be in shape to handle 500 tons of ore daily and will soon afterward be brought up to its capacity."

Bettles says for a new plant which contains such a vast amount of machinery, he has never seen one start off more smoothly. There has not been a hot box anywhere; but everything seemed to move along as if it had been broken in.

Mr. Bettles will return to camp again tonight. The results being obtained at Newhouse are certainly a triumph for Mr. Bettles

UNION PACIFIC SOLD DOWN.

Was on Supreme Court Decision Favoring Hill Interests in Northern Securities Case.

New York, March 6 .- Opening prices of stocks today advanced easily and a large number of stocks showed wide gains. The largest dealings were in Union Pacific and U. S. Steel, but their gains were fractional. Professionals offered stocks on the advance and its volume wiped out the moderate gains. In the stocks where the improvement was substantial a portion of the rise was sustained. St. Paul and Union Pacific in the railroads, Reading in the coalers and Tennessee Coal and Sugar in the specialties were specially heavy. Quite a number of minor stocks were being absorbed confidently at higher prices in the meantime. About 11 o'clock the market generally strengthened and the active stocks crept up to the opening level. U. S. reduction and refining advanced 21/2, the preferred 41/2, Canadian Pacific 21/2, Linseed pfd. 2 and Malting pfd., Lead pfd., Pacific Mail, Realty, Metropolitan Street Railway and Metropolitan Securities and Sault Ste Marie 1 to 1½. Sloss-Sheffield steel yielded 3½ and St. Paul ofd 1½.

St. Paul pfd. 1½.

An uneven upward movement was led by Missouri Pacific amongst the southwesterns and Reading in the eastern group. Both of the stocks rose a point but their following gained only fractions. The transcontinental rose a point but their following gained only fractions. The transcontinental stocks, New York Central, Erie and the U. S. Steel stocks were held back. Mexican Central rose 1 and Realty 2. Wisconsin Central pfd., Tennessee Coal, Beet Sugar pfd., Pacific coast and hide and leather pfd., declined 1 and American Express 2.

Union Pacific was sold down to 132% on the decision favoring the Hill interests in the Northern Securities case. Southern Pacific weakened only fractionally but St. Paul lost a point and Northwestern 1½. Large orders flowed into the market for Union Pacific on the break and by 1 o'clock it had got back to 134%. Erie was also lifted diligently to 48 and Pennsylvania developed pronounced strength. There was much confusion over the interpretation of the Northern Securities decision.
